Columbus, Ohio, USA

Dear Colleague:

On behalf of ICMA, I am pleased to invite you to attend the 2022 ICMA Annual Conference in Columbus, Ohio, September 17-21, 2022.

The 2022 ICMA Annual Conference offers educational, information-sharing and networking tools to ensure professionals of all backgrounds and career stages are plugged into the most innovative ideas and practical strategies needed to manage the challenges facing local governments. With four and a half days of learning, inspiration, and connection, attendees are equipped with the tools and support they need to make their communities a better place to live, work, and play.

Please note very important COVID-19 protocols when traveling to the United States:

You will need to get a COVID-19 viral test (regardless of vaccination status or citizenship) no more than 1 day before you travel by air into the United States. You must show your negative result to the airline before you board your flight.

If you recently recovered from COVID-19, you may instead travel with documentation of recovery from COVID-19 (i.e., your positive COVID-19 viral test result on a sample taken no more than 90 days before the flight's departure from a foreign country and a letter from a licensed healthcare provider or a public health official stating that you were cleared to travel).

Please note that ICMA is unable to cover the costs of any of the fees related to your participation in the event. Costs related to travel, accommodation, transportation, and conference registration will be your own responsibility. We understand you may want to tour the Columbus, Ohio area before or after the Annual Conference; therefore, your travel to the United States will be from approximately September 14-23, 2022.
